UX researcher Q&A

Hello! I've been thinking about developing some new skills. Any suggestions on where to start?

Hi there! That's great to hear. The first step is to identify your interests. What areas are you passionate about or curious to explore?

I've always been interested in graphic design, but I'm not sure where to begin.

Graphic design is a fantastic choice! To start, you might want to learn the basics of design principles and software tools. There are many online platforms offering courses like Adobe Creative Cloud tutorials or design fundamentals. What specific aspects of graphic design are you interested in?
